—the equal of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If other medicines of its class were like it, they'd be guaranteed. This is. If it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case for which it's recommended, you get your money back. It isn't a "cure-all," but it does cure all diseases arising from a torpid or deranged liver, or from impure blood. For all Scrofulous, Skin and Scalp Diseases, it's a positive remedy. Even Consumption, or Lung-scurf, is cured by it, if taken in time and given a fair trial. That's all that's asked for it—a fair trial. Then, if it doesn't help you, there's no pay.

We claim it to be an unequalled remedy to purify the blood and invigorate the liver. We claim it to be lasting in its effects, creating an appetite, purifying the blood, and preventing Bilious, Typhoid and Malarial fevers, if taken in time. PULLED THE STRING.

An Original and Decidedly Unique Device

Adopted by a Husband to Frighten His Wife Into Confessing That She Ran Around With Other Men.

A divorce case in which some very unique testimony was introduced was tried before Judge Pease today. The parties to the suit are Sarah J. Kline and Samuel Kline, the latter being the defendant. John C. Welby represented the plaintiff while Messrs. Upham and Kline, the latter a brother of the defendant, conducted the defense. It will be seen by that statement that the defendant was brilliantly defended. Kline had filed an answer and cross petition in the case and charged his wife with running a street with other men. She in her petition alleged that he treated her cruelly, neglected her and was very jealous of her. The unique part of the story came out when Mrs. Kline was on the stand. She stated that her husband was so insanely jealous and was so zealous in his endeavors to worry her into a confession that he resorted to a scheme which is entirely new and decidedly original. For several nights while the parties lived in Canton she heard strange noises at the window of their bedroom and he would tell her that some of her admirers were at the window trying to get her to come out and fly to their embrace. She resented the implied insult and declared that hobgoblins and spooks were conspiring against her and that the house was haunted.

One evening there came a more than usually loud rapping at the window, and the wife jumped from the bed, imbued with the idea that she would solve the mystery or die in the attempt. Kline also jumped for the window but his wife got there first and he then saw a strange object dangling from the window sash. Holding it up she found it was nothing more nor less than a "tie-tac." From her story it appears that the husband amused himself by lying in bed on the side next the window, pulling the string attached to a large nail which hung just over the window pane. With this contrivance he had frightened his wife nearly to death in his endeavors to make her believe that there was some one at the window. The scheme worked well for awhile but whether or not it is one which may be generally adopted by Canton husbands the attorneys for the defense did not venture an opinion.

The court after hearing the evidence was of the opinion that there was sufficient grounds for a divorce, hence as soon as the costs are paid a decree will be issued.

IT WAS A SUCCESS.

Mrs. George Ofenberger Dies From the Effects of the Concentrated Lye Which She Drank.

The efforts of Mrs. George Ofenberger to shuffle off into another world have been crowned with success, death having occurred about 7 o'clock this morning. The concentrated lye taken was the main factor in destroying life. PAPERS PREPARED.

The Supreme Court of the State of Ohio,

Will be Asked to Pass on the Case of Dr. D. P. Maxwell.

The Brief Will Be Printed in a Few Days—Grounds on Which the Court Will Be Asked to Reverse the Verdict.

The case of Ohio against Dr. David P. Maxwell, now serving four years sentence in the penitentiary for attempting to produce an abortion on Lillie Bordner, from the effects of which she died, will go to the supreme court.

Both sides are busily engaged in preparing papers. A motion must first be argued before the supreme court to allow the case to come before the court. Should this motion be overruled, the case ends there and Maxwell will continue in the penitentiary. Should it not be overruled the case will be heard before the supreme court.

The grounds upon which the case will be taken up embrace the points which came out in the trial, and concerning which the attorneys had many lively tilts. The first claim will be that the court erred in overruling a motion to quash the indictment.

It will also be alleged that the court erred in overruling a demurrer to the petition. The main cause for taking the case up is the expulsion by Judge Taylor of state attorneys made by Lillie Bordner to Dr. Goodrich and Mrs. Cully. It will be remembered that upon this point the attorneys had lengthy arguments during the trial of the case, the defense claiming that the declarations made by the girl was a part of the res gesta. It was on this point that Judge Fullert of the circuit court dissented with his colleagues.

The briefs are being prepared and will be printed in a few days.

SKIPS THE TOWN.

Book Agent Downes Leaves to Avoid Arrest.

He Says the Canton Lawyers Would Send Him to Hell—He Writes a Letter to Landlord Beyer.

Notwithstanding the fact that the mercury kept close to the zero mark last night, yet the climate in Canton was too hot for Fred J. Downes, and he left unceremoniously and without stopping to say good-bye or pay his bill at the Hotel Yale. After the investigating committee, upon which were a couple of Canton lawyers, had been at him Monday night and made him virtually admit that he had endeavored to act improperly with the young lady, he began to get scared and to fear he would be brought up to answer for his folly, and yesterday evening skipped the town.

The following note he left for Mr. Byers of the Yale Hotel with reference to his departure and his bill:

Mr. Byers: I have just learned that I was to be arrested tonight when I come to supper, and knowing fully well what little justice I would get here, I think the best thing I can do is leave town. I will give this to Miss Percy to give to you this evening, and you make out my bill and give it to her. She will mail it to our firm and tomorrow you will get a check for the amount. I have turned over all orders to Miss Percy so she will take my place here and settle my bill at the Union. I believe I owe you $11, but make out your bill and you will get your money on receipt of it, then please give my baggage to Miss Percy and she will express it to me. Sorry to leave but necessity demands it for these lawyers would not be satisfied until they had sent me to hell.
Yours truly,
F. J. DOWNES.

Miss Felsch arrived at her home in Cleveland all right after her experience here and today one of the Canton lawyers who assisted in getting her out of the clasp of Downes, received a letter from her thanking him for the kindness and help.

BASE BALL MEETING.

Prospects of a League Being Organized With Canton in the Swim.

A meeting of those interested in the organization of a league, was held at Alliance today. Massillon, Alliance and East Liverpool had representatives present. It was decided to abandon the idea of having a league composed of small cities, as it was feared there would not be sufficient interest to keep up the clubs. It was decided to go to work and organize a league, with clubs from Canton, Massillon, Tiffin, Sandusky, Akron, Massillon, East Liverpool and Alliance. Good players will be secured and an excellent ball playing may be expected.

COURT HOUSE NEWS.

An Interesting Divorce Case on Trial Today.

Other Matters of Importance at the Temple of Justice—The Pay in Order.

Judge Taylor was on the bench in court room No. 2 today. The first case considered was that of Catherine C. Meyer against Joseph Mandru treasurer. The treasurer desired to collect some $500 taxes and intended to enforce collection. The whole point in controversy is whether or not the property should be listed in her name in the first ward Canton, or listed in the name of her agent George W. Meyer in Canton township. After hearing the evidence the court took the case under advisement.

AN INTERESTING DIVORCE CASE.

The next case to come up had something of peculiar interest. It was the divorce case of Elmer S. Stansbury against Phoebe Stansbury. They were married November 28, 1890 by Justice Wettsch, Stansbury had been arrested as a putative father and was forced to enter into the marriage contract to avoid arrest. He works for Moses & Reemnyder in this city. A year elapsed and no children appeared to gladden the household hence Stansbury became suspicious and applied for a divorce, claiming that he had been enticed into marrying Phoebe through fraud. The defendant and her sister, Mrs. Duffy, had been attending to the household of James McGrew who was engineer at Harvey's flouring mill. It was claimed that the women took no care of McGrew's children one of the boys being so hungry at one time that he was obliged to eat meat which had been thrown to the dogs. The women left McGrew's house and the children were sent away. The NEWS-DEMOCRAT containing the story of this alleged cruelty was offered in court this morning. The court was of the opinion that the defendant was not a very excellent woman. Stansbury himself appeared in court dressed in the height of fashion, with prince albert, glossy silk tie and gloves and necktie to match. He made on the bench the astounding statement that he received for his services $3 a week. The court eyed him curiously, but the young man was telling the truth. Attorney Nat C. McLean for the plaintiff offered some legal propositions, which the court now holds under advisement. It is probable that the divorce will be granted. Stansbury has not cohabited with his wife since their marriage.

THOSE PAY IN ORDERS.

Deputy Treasurer Myers is engaged with City Clerk Lichtenwalter in looking over accounts and comparing books. As fast as accounts are balanced and verified, pay in orders are issued and the amounts accepted. This is what would have been done long ago had the city clerk sent in orders. It will be seen that the $35,000 find was a mythical delusion and originated only in the mind of the ingenious city clerk. The Repository states in glowing headlines that the money is being paid. That's what we said would happen as soon as pay-in orders were submitted.

THE WEIBRECHT CONTEST.

The contest for the seat of B. F. Weibrecht, commenced by W. H. Rowley being heard at Columbus. City Clerk Coxon is absent from his post at the court house, having been subpoenaed to give evidence in the case. He left yesterday armed with disputed ballots which he will offer in evidence.

PRISONERS ARRANGED.

Two prisoners have been arraigned before Judge Pease and one of them disposed of. George Owens, under charge of burglary and larceny pleaded guilty and was sentenced to the penitentiary for one year. Daniel Jones for shooting with intent to kill, pleaded not guilty and Otto E. Young assigned as counsel.

WILL HE FIGHT.

The article in yesterday's NEWS-DEMOCRAT regarding the Kline divorce case, did not do justice to attorney Charles C. Upham. An agreement was entered into between attorneys Welby and Upham before the case commenced, to the effect that Mr. Upham was to offer no defense and allow the divorce to be granted. The coming of plenty of evidence and it was feared if the same was given, neither side could get a divorce. Consequently the agreement was made with the understanding that no alimony was to be allowed and the girl to remain in the custody of the mother as long as she conducted herself in a proper manner. Mr. Upham made no defense and had no chance to show the ability which he has so often shown in the trial of cases at the Stark county bar.

THE HOSPITAL.

To Be Opened For Patients on Monday Next.

Arrangements Made by the Board of Directors and Other Matters of Much Interest.

The citizens of Canton will be pleased to learn that arrangements have finally been completed for the opening of the new Aultman hospital. The securing of subscriptions at this time has been an arduous task but over four hundred stockholders are already interested in the benevolent enterprise and its success is assured.

The Board of Directors held a meeting Monday night and decided to open the institution to the public for the reception of patients on next Monday. A committee composed of H. R. Jones, Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Barber was appointed for the opening which for the present will be informal. The furnishings are now going into the different departments and by Monday arrangements will be completed so that patients can be cared for in a thorough and satisfactory manner. The private rooms of the institution will be furnished by individual effort and Hon. M. D. Harter of Ashland has sent word that he wished to furnish one. Others will also take a hand in the good work and it is hoped soon to have a full complement. The work of securing stock subscriptions will be continued until all is taken.

Another meeting of the directors will be held Monday night when the rules and regulations for the government of the institution will be adopted and a staff of physicians and satisfactory manner. The committee having this matter in hand are Henry W. Harter, Dr. Fraunfelder and Ed Dannenbiller.

At the last meeting an assessment of twenty-five per cent of the stock subscription was made, the money to be paid in to L. L. Miller, treasurer, at the First National Bank. An expert nurse and also a matron have been secured for the hospital to look after the work there. The institution promises to be a splendid one and it will be a blessing long needed in Canton.

THE CONTEST.

With a Fair Decision Mr. Weibrecht's Plurality Will Not Be Decreased.

A special received from Columbus this morning says: The house committee on privileges and elections last night examined Clerk Coxon of Stark county, who presented the irregular ballots in the contested election case of Rowley against Weibrecht. The ballots were irregular and cut both ways, making it certain that on a fair and impartial decision Mr. Weibrecht, the sitting member, will be able to maintain the plurality given him on the face of the returns. Judge Day made an argument on behalf of Mr. Rowley.

A SAD CASE.

The Widow of a Man Who Committed Suicide Some Years Ago

Found Sick in a Cold and Cheerless Room With No One to Care for Her—Removed to the Infirmary.

Many a sad tale has been unfolded of man's inhumanity to man and many accounts have been given of man's inhumanity to woman, but now a case of inhumanity is up in which man cuts no figure. The one in point comes from a small unpeopled house, where Mrs. Mary Huth has heretofore resided. With her was a grown daughter and a little son about five years of age. Mrs. Huth is the widow of Gottlieb Huth who a few years ago ended his own existence by means of a tree and piece of rope at the eastern outskirts of the city.

She has not been in very comfortable circumstances financially, and added to this she was an apoplectic and was the victim of periodical fits that lasted for several days at a time. Monday she was taken down with one of these series of spasms which completely prostrated her, rendering her utterly incapable of looking after things about the house or even of attending to her own needs.

Tuesday morning the grown daughter took her departure and is supposed to have gone to Cleveland. The prostrated mother was thus left utterly helpless, lying sick in bed with no one to administer to her comfort. All day Tuesday she lay in her cold north-west room with nothing to eat or drink and without a particle of fire in the entire dwelling. The little five-year-old boy having no one to see to him, wandered out upon the street, and all day he roved about over the city in his scanty garments.

In the afternoon the neighbors became apprised of the state of affairs and Lewis Hoffman at once started up street after the township trustees. Superintendent Pontius of the Infirmary was summoned and at 4 o'clock he appeared with his carriage and the mother and little boy were taken to the Children's Home at Mt. Union, where he can be properly cared for. The case is a sad one and the sight presented to the neighbors when they entered the cold and barren sick room of Mrs. Huth, was indeed cheerless.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Among the features of the opposition to the war with Chili, which were used in the House the circulation by Representative William J. Combs of Brooklyn, N. Y., a letter from Valparaiso bitterly antagonistic to the American position in general and to Mr. Egan in particular. The letter comes from a Scotch firm doing an extensive commercial business in Valparaiso and is directed to the New York Representatives of the House. It says that the Baltimore incident was nothing more than a drunk en brawl and that Minister Egan has been from the first actively fomenting trouble. Mr. Combs carried this letter around on the Democratic side of the House and exhibited it as a means of offsetting the impression made by the President's message.

CLARK INDORS'S KOONS.

She Publishes a Card in Her Organ Giving

Mrs. Koons' Financial Administration a Good Deal Off—A Certificate for Mrs. Tenney—List of Women Who Throten to Withdraw from the W. R. C.

The Repository of Tuesday evening contained a card from Mrs. Ada F. Clarke past State President of the W. R. C. endorsing the financial work of the Corps in Ohio for the past year, when Mrs. Emma F. Koons was State Treasurer. As there is now supposed to be a coolness between these two women the endorsement caused some surprise, but is a tribute of praise to Mrs. Clarke, that she will allow no personal animosity to cloud her admiration for Mrs. Koons as an able and faithful financial officer. The statistics of the card of Mrs. Clarke are as follows:

Number of families assisted.....	4,103
Donated in hospital supplies, books and comforts, to the inmates of the Soldiers' Home.....	$1,721.91
Donated to the Soldiers' Orphan, at Madison, Ind., 600 items for soldiers' mothers, widows and army nurses.....	$40.00
To the National Relief Corps Home, at Madison, Ind., 600 items for soldiers' mothers, widows and army nurses.....	1,968.50
Special cases of relief and relief of local corps.....	$5.00
Total expenditure of last year.....	$14,240.91
Respectfully submitted, ADA F. CLARKE, O. C.—EMMA F. KOONS, Past State Treasurer.

MRS. KOONS' OBSERVATIONS.

Mrs. Koons was shown this card of figures this morning by a NEWS-DEMOCRAT reporter and marked it O. K., which means "O. K. Correct." Hence Mrs. Koons' name is attached in order to give the card official stability, for the benefit of the W. R. C. outside of Canton. Mrs. Koons desires to state in this connection, as an addendum to Mrs. Clarke's card, that her financial exhibit of the year for which she (Mrs. Koons) was treasurer cannot be completed until Mrs. Clarke turns over to her the money and merchandise she collected in the name of charity from various parties and firms that advertised in the official roster. Mrs. Koons exhibited an affidavit from the Repository office, duly signed and verified, saying they printed the official roster as a job for the W. R. C. and not for Mrs. Clarke as an individual. Mrs. Koons further states that the original bill of the Repository was for $110, and on the plea from Mrs. Clarke that the job was for charity they threw off $10, or rather donated $10 to the W. R. C. "This," said Mrs. Koons, "disposes of Mrs. Clarke's talk that the roster was her private speculation."

A CERTIFICATE ON THAT SPEECH.

We are handed a certificate signed by seven well known Canton ladies, all of whom were members of the W. R. C. at the time Mrs. Clarke made her violent speech attacking Mrs. Tenney. This certificate is a strong endorsement of Mrs. Tenney.

DISOLUTION MOVEMENT.

There is a strong movement on foot among G. A. R. men to call a meeting for the purpose of considering the advisability of calling in the charter of the local W. R. C., and disbanding it. Judge Advocate-in-Chief J. J. Clark has decided that a full turnout must be had before any such movement can be taken. As many of the members are not living in Canton it would be next to impossible to get a full representation of the G. A. R. That of course would mean to lay the entire matter on the table. The story James is contradicted by high authority in his view of the law. Anna Wittenmyer, founder of the Red Book and authority on law governing such cases, says that James is entirely wrong. All that is necessary is to give the members notification of the proposed meeting and if they do not want to come, it is their privilege. The work can go right ahead and a majority of those present will rule.

Further evidence of a corps dissolution was obtained, at any rate the NEWS-DEMOCRAT has received a list of names of ladies who are going to withdraw from the corps. The list is said to be accurate although the reporter does not undertake to say that the ladies will positively withdraw. Following is the list: Mrs. J. J. Clark, Dr. Douglas, Mrs. Dr. Daugherty, Mrs. Goodyear, Anna Hill, Helen Williams, Susan Kissinger, Sarah Meredith, Mrs. Merring, Mrs. W. H. Burgeon, Mrs. Wheeler, Ellen Lind, Phoebe Palmer, Mrs. J. O. Palmer, Myrl Jones, Bertha Clark, Nancy Laible, Miriam Stabler, Martha Weaver, Mary Liebert, Emma Rank, Rosa Ream, Mrs. Perrine, Mrs. Sloan, Pauline Powell, Flora Smith.
